

"Publishing" a Flash movie in a web page.

Flash movies are compressed, making them easy to distribute over the web.

To compress the file (creating a "movie" with the SWF extension), simply click File | Publish from the menu.

This will also create a HTML file with the proper code for embedding the Flash movie.

You may want to set publishing settings, especially the sound settings (see related file for information).